“ Dan photographed my wedding day and the end results were fantastic. He arrived early to start photographing our guests arrivals and took a lot of great shots. As well as taking awesome photos throughout the day he captured all the small details at the church and the venue that we had put so much effort into organising. His eye for detail is incredible.

He was able to make us both feel relaxed and comfortable in our photos and it really shows in the end result. He went above and beyond to meet my requests for specific photos and captured the whole day perfectly. He was quick to upload photos to the online gallery, which offers various colour effects for the photos and allows people to purchase any that they want. Dan provided a truly wonderful service at an exceptional price and I would not hesitate to recommend him to anyone!

About

I'm Dan. I've been photographing weddings professionally since 2007.

Every wedding is unique. Full of emotions, connections, and moments that define your love story. My photography style is a testament to my commitment to capturing these authentic, unscripted moments as they unfold.

I believe in the beauty of imperfections and the magic of spontaneity. My goal is to document your day as it happens, preserving the genuine smiles, heartfelt embraces, and fleeting glances that make your wedding day truly special.

When I'm not behind the camera, I'm blessed to share my life with my beautiful wife and our two wonderful children. They inspire me every day to cherish the moments that matter, which is why I'm so passionate about preserving your precious memories through photography.

Let's talk ...

The internet can be so impersonal for something as important as your wedding and so if you'd like me to book a no-obligation meeting at my shop in Kinver i'd be happy to do so (always good for a chat over a cuppa with a biscuit or two!)
